Barbara Aubin

Artist Reception: October 6, 2006 – 6-9pm

Informal Artist Talk: Sunday, October 15, 2006 – 2pm - Free

Concurrent with the 'Signatures of Age' Group Show at Woman Made Gallery is a solo exhibition with mixed media works by Chicago artist, Barbara Aubin whose impressive career spans sixty creative years. At an informal Artist Talk on Sunday, October 15 at 2pm Ms. Aubin will elaborate on her themes, techniques and inspirations.

"These small works on paper reflect my impressions of the lives and work of composers and conductors, such as Maurice Ravel, Scott Joplin, Gustav Mahler, Dmitri Shostakovich, Ervin Schulhoff, Antonio Vivaldi and Virginia Eskin, among others. My media choices and technical applications have not changed much over the last sixty years of creating art. My personal circumstances, however, have dictated a smaller format and limitations in exploring digital media and photography. I have always loved watercolor and drawing, and I frequently experiment with Dada-inspired phrasing, 'hands-on' applications of paper collage materials and rubber stamping." – Barbara Aubin
